DISASTER (which comes from the Latin word for Evil Star) can strike at anytime--a kitchen fire, a terror attack. In partnership with Red Cross & others, the MUSLIM CONSULTATIVE NETWORK recommends each family have a Communications Plan. Communications, like cell phones, are usually disrupted during natural disasters and other emergencies. Do your children know what family in the community they should stay with until you can get to them? And what will you do about vulnerable family members and neighbors, the elderly for example? And pets? Who will translate for those who do not speak English well? And does your mosque or place of worship have an emergency mobilization and shelter plan? We are all responsible to be ready together. Care together, Prepare together!

The most important advice during outbreak of any contagious disease is to avoid contact with infected persons. Wash hands carefully. The best practice is to avoid crowds, i.e. Shelter in Place.

Please note that masks do not provide complete protection from the flu.

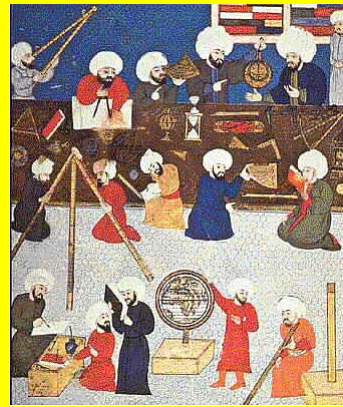

A reminder that women's lives are lost in disasters due to clothing and footwear that is inadequate for emergencies. But women often play a very important role in preparedness planning. PLAN TOGETHER!

Make a Plan, Make a Kit, Stay Informed

We are all part of a larger human community. Let's not wait for a disaster to realize this!

"Hope for the best, but prepare for the worst."

"Serve God Only: doing Good Works (Ihsan) for parents, relatives, orphans, those in need, neighbors who are near, neighbors who are strangers, the companions by your side, the wayfarers whom you meet, & what your right hand possesses." (4:36)
